Oct 22, 2018 Version 2.30.3 * App Store Icon * Plugin Updates * Bug fixes In the last 4 years this game has changed dramatically... from a basic spin-spin off of your favorite sci-if card game to a payout to play endless circle of the same kind of wars and fights where there is no direction or notification from developers when things are happening or what's even happening... I can say that this game is great! So much depth with little lost and only getting bigger... The only sad thing I really don't understand is why you can't see old dialogues and story history that you can play???? say that I only get half of what was said that the whole story is basically gone after being read once.... I've played this game since it basically came out. and have been members of Kongregate for longer.... that that... I wish they would intensify this beautiful game with all the money they make of all the children who take advantage of Units.. We're going to put a little more time into guilds and prize systems, etc., I'm sure many would agree on these issues. The account transfer system is a PLUS!. I hope you make this game even more. It has enormous potential. This game has been dead for a while. Look at the version history, there's no new content in 2 years. Looks like they got in the middle of a major goal change, and apparently gave up, the game is basically unfinished. The entire community around the game dried up a long time ago, even forums on Kongregate haven't seen a new player post in years. That's what happens, I get it. Games come and go. But Kongregate should be ashamed of himself right now. They're recycling the same shit content over and over again, milking the game for money. The expense in this game is extremely high, a pack of good cards can be as much as $20. It could justify this if developers were constantly putting new, interesting and high-quality content and events. But how do you justify continuing to monetize a game at that level when you've completely abandoned it? What are players paying for? Probably just the holiday home of the Kongregate executive. It's frankly dishonest, they don't even have the dignity to reveal to players that the game isn't getting any more updates. They haven't even updated the game's user interface for the iPhone X, the notch cuts off part of the game screen. The iPhone 12 comes out next month... What a way to play. I guess that's how they take all their games to the ground, stay away from Kongregate. I played this a while ago and erased it. Yesterday I turned it with all my data... but something was wrong. Every time I left the game, my data was erased. To upload my data, I have to reinstall the game. I don't know if anyone else experienced this problem. Kongregate, if you still work on this game, CORRECT THE PROBLEM! I love this game and want the experience I had back!
